New Tool!

Give It A Whirl!

This energetic young man is flying through a mural using our new tool, Give it a Whirl! Continuing our line of playful, experiential art tools that began with the bubble blower, Give it a Whirl offers the child in a wheelchair a chance to feel like they are flying. Just slide the brackets onto the armrests, secure with Velcro, and go. Roll forward and the spinning, whirling, twirling, color wheels are set in motion, letting the artist of this composition feel as though they are the pilot, flying in their wheelchair. Smiles abound as the blades spin and the pilot "takes off."

Grant Information

The Christopher and Dana Reeve Foundation will be putting the application for their Quality of Life Grant on their website at the end of July. "Quality of Life grants, conceived by the late Dana Reeve, are given to programs or projects that improve the daily lives of people living with paralysis, particularly spinal cord injuries. Funding is awarded twice yearly to programs in thirteen categories, including: accessibility, advocacy, arts, assistive technology, children, counseling, education, employment,
